MEDICAL RECORDS

by JOE DUNN,M.D.

The new world order in comic books is in place. Exclusives are now part of our lexicon. I could go on about this aspect or that about the "new order" but after thinking about it I felt that we just have to deal with it. As long as the product the fans want is available then what's the big deal? However, if these exclusive deals do cause product availability to be restricted then problems can arise. But I do not see that happening at this time. In fact we have been getting more than our usual amount of coverage after all these exclusives started to occur. Like bank mergers and Microsoft Windows 95 it's coming and we can't stop it.

A number of things are occurring this next year.

1. In January 1996, Ninja High School celebrates issue #50. Independent comics have come a long way.

2. Warrior Nun Gallery. This book is shaping up to be one of the most unusual books of 1996. Scheduled to be released in March of 1996 it includes contributors like Bill Willingham, Dave Johnson, Colleen Doran, Bob Burden, Evan Dorkin, Ron Lim, Stan Sakai, Ben Dunn, Nelson Ascencio, Fred Perry, Joe Wight and artists from Studio Do-Do. With more names to follow. An interesting array of talent should make this book an interesting read.

3. Lillith the Demon Princess. Writer Barry Lyga and artist Jeff Henderson are teaming up for this new miniseries to be released in the summer of 1996. A CD version will also be available.

4. Expect some new things with Gold Digger. Including an all-new color series.

5. An upcoming teamup...details to follow.

6. Some new manga series...details to follow.

I am excited about our calendar and with the industry in general. Never before have we come out with such an aggressive calendar of new titles along with the regular staple of AP books. While some think the industry is changing for the worse, never before has there been available such a wide variety of high quality independent comics. We must remember the fans will ultimately make the votes so let's hope the industry can give them the comics to vote on.

Elin Winkler is the Antarctic Press' editor for the anthropomorphic line, writer for Tales of the Fehnnik and the upcoming Furry High School, and is responsible for editing the Engrish in most of the manga books. She was originally known as "Elin Jackal" because for years she dressed up as a jackal girl...that is, until her jackal alter-ego got killed (see Amazing Strip #9). We noticed a few changes after she met manga artist Bang Ippongi and later both acknowledged each other as "siblings", but nobody grasped what that meant until while in San Diego she unexpectedly changed into the feline form shown here! (She promptly mauled a gawker who tried to pull her tail.)

Elin's keeping to her human form since then, but it does explain the shredded sofa we had to replace. Watch out for catnip!

Stainless Steel Armadillo, No. 5, October 1995, is published by the Antarctic Press, 7272 Wurzbach Suite #204, San Antonio, Texas, 78240. FAX #: (210) 614-5029. Story & Artwork © 1993 Ryukihei. When Night Falls...

Within the cold, dark dimensions of the night, a twilight land that knows no peace, sleep the demonic beings known as the Shinma. When a human spirit is in chaos, however, it calls to the Shinma, who wander out of the darkness and lose themselves in the human world.

Charged with guarding over the sleep of the Shinma are the vampire clan.

Now begins the tale of a young girl who must hunt down the wandering Shinma when she awakens to the vampire blood within her. Her name is Miyu—Vampire Miyu—and she is the new sentinel against the Shinma.
